"'Tis the Season to Be Jolly"

Each school year is filled with events and activities which lend color and excitement to the lives of the boys and girls who make their homes on the campus. Each activity is carefully planned and scheduled so that every child may have an opportunity to participate in some way during the year. Social growth, the ability to assume responsibilities, physical development and, highly important, enjoyment are the justifications for carrying out the extensive extracurricular program we have at CSDR.

At this time of year a joyous holiday feeling prevails on our campus as each department prepares to celebrate the Christmas closing of school. From the youngsters in Lower School to the seniors in Upper School the spirit of Christmas and the excitement of homegoing tend to overshadow the importance of the three R's.

The jolly old man with the white beard and the red suit will pat the head or shake the hand of each believing as well as each non-believing child in Lower and Elementary schools. Santa's visits to the young children are sponsored each year by the Kiwanis Club of Riverside. His journeys to CSDR occur on the closing day of school during the customary classroom parties which are held throughout the school.

The younger teenagers in Intermediate School have learned many of the traditional Christmas carols in their speech or rhythm classes and some of them have made gifts for their families in their vocational classes. Each class will meet with its homeroom teacher on the closing day of school and enjoy a classroom party.

The most outstanding and anticipated event of our Christmas season is the Dramatic Club's annual Christmas program. This year the club, composed of boys and girls of Upper School, has been hard at work for several weeks preparing its Christmas program to be presented to the students and the public the nights of December 14 and 15. The production this year will be called "Round the World at Christmas." Thirty-four young people will take part in the pageant depicting Christmas customs in various countries. A chorus of fifteen boys and girls robed in white will present traditional Christmas carols. The girl members of the Dramatic Club have been busy making costumes while the boys have been preparing and constructing properties and settings.

Every year about this time from the general area of the Vocational Department and specifically from the home-making rooms wafts the warm spicy odors of baking cookies. The girls are getting ready for the annual Christmas tea which is served to all staff members on the campus. On display will be the holiday home decorations which the girls have made.

In festively decorated residence halls our boys and girls of all ages will enjoy the parties which they have helped the counselors plan. Names have been drawn and gifts will be exchanged. In one of the dorms the children have collected the money which would have been spent on gifts to exchange and will present it to the Riverside Christmas Clearance Bureau. The donation will be used to help make Christmas a happy one for a needy family in the Riverside area.

"'Tis the season to be jolly." We agree that this is true, but it is also our wish that along with all the activities and festivities of the season, and brighter than the glittering tinsel and colored lights, will shine the true meaning of Christmas.

California School for the Deaf Riverside

Vol. 6 December 8, 1960 No. 2

California Association of Teachers of Deaf and Hard of Hearing Children

The newly organized California Association of Teachers of Deaf and Hard of Hearing Children met at Mary E. Bennett School in Los Angeles on November 5, 1960.

The purpose of this organization is to advance the educational and general welfare of deaf and hard of hearing children; to promote the professional growth and welfare of teachers of deaf and hard of hearing children; to cooperate with public and private agencies interested in the education of deaf and hard of hearing children; to support high professional standards for teachers of deaf and hard of hearing children; to encourage suitable candidates to secure the necessary preparation to teach deaf and hard of hearing children; to provide the public with reliable information regarding the education of deaf and hard of hearing children.

The constitution, which had been drawn up by a committee previous to the general meeting, was discussed and in some instances reworded to meet the needs of the association. The proposed constitution was then voted upon and accepted by the members.

The officers of the organization will be elected for one year and will assume their duties following the first general meeting each year. Officers elected for this year are:

President, Justine P. Dozier from Los Angeles; President-elect, Louise Barr from Los Angeles; Secretary, Howard Rahmlow from Riverside; Treasurer, Barry Griffing from Riverside; Adviser from day classes, Malcolm Henderson from Los Angeles; Adviser from day schools, Evelyn Shellgrain from Los Angeles; Adviser from residential schools, Marjorie Dawson from Riverside.

Membership is open to those persons actively engaged in the education of deaf and hard of hearing children and to students taking college training to prepare them to teach.

Three CSDR Teachers Participate in Visual Aids Project

Mr. Barry Griffing of the Intermediate School department, Mr. Carl Barber and Mr. Lawrence Newman of the Upper School department were chosen some time ago to be consultants on a Visual Aids for the Deaf project. Funds were released by the United States government for this project. Mr. Gordon Taaffe of Los Angeles State College is director of this project. The three teachers in our school will try to work out sketches for visual aids that can be used in teaching different topics in mathematics. They will also present teaching procedures to be used in connection with the visual aids. Mr. Taaffe hopes to bring out a booklet of filmstrips and visual aids that will be of benefit to teachers of arithmetic in the primary grades.

Intermediate School Presents Kennedy's Biography

Wednesday, November 23, the pupils in Intermediate School presented in pantomime the story of John F. Kennedy, President-elect.

In a series of five scenes, narrated by Mr. Larry Barrett and Mrs. Luda Sowell, the pupils showed Kennedy's life from his college days in Massachusetts, through his Navy service and finally to his career in politics which began in 1946 when Mr. Kennedy was elected to the United States Congress.

Charles Hofer appeared as John Kennedy in each of the scenes and the following students played the other roles:

Mike Nunn	Dennis Wiley
Craig Fenton	Lee Bradley
Sharon Russell	Leroy Harper
Sherry Crawford	Jackie Long
Cathy Hogan	Laura Dinndorf
Nancy Burrell	Tony Caloroso
Sue Jacobs	John Segafredo
Pat Moran	Fred Duran
Burton Quartermus	Ron Miller
Rene Gamache	Gary Cruz
Clifford Garbett	Judy Tamez
Jay Shopshire	Froetter Nelson
Beverly Osborn	Dale Ice
Mickey Pohl	David Strange
Danny Vance	Billy Travis

Faculty members in charge of the program were Mrs. LeVere Quinn, Mrs. Luda Sowell, Mr. Erpel Garrett and Mr. Larry Barrett.

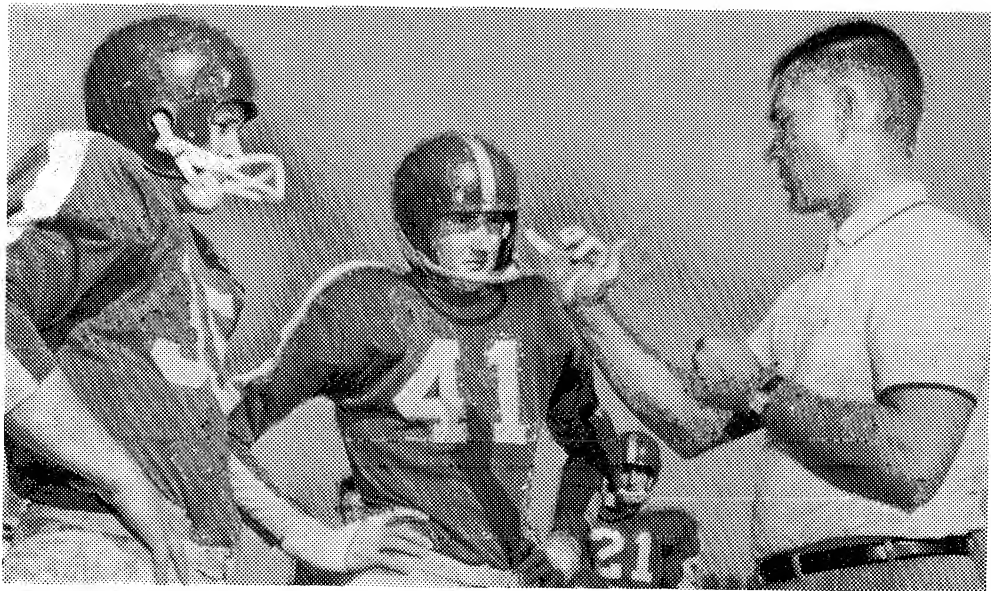

Columnist Highlights CSDR Sports

Mr. Bud Furillo, who writes a syndicated column which appears in the Los Angeles Herald-Express, visited our campus on the day of our final football game. On the opposite page appears the resulting column.

Football Aids Deaf Boys' Morale

By Bud Furillo

Reprinted from the Los Angeles Evening Herald-Express

Mark McCrory, John Darby, Co-Captains, and Coach Thornton

Halfback Bill Ramborger slanted through the opening at right tackle. He sped 52 yards to a touchdown and the crowd cheered wildly.

Thrilling runs and jubilant home throngs are commonplace at any high school football game.

But there was something unusual about this one.

The halfback didn't hear the roar of the crowd. The spectators couldn't hear themselves.

But their inability to hear doesn't prevent the players and students of the California School for the Deaf in Riverside from soaking up all the excitement presented on the gridiron.

The motto at CSDR is:

"You don't play football with your ears.

"You play it with your hearts."

Titanic "tickers" are standard equipment in the silent world of CSDR.

Win Finale

The state-financed school closed its season Saturday on a happy note. Visiting Twin Pines was defeated, 27-6. Eighty per cent of CSDR's 508 student body, ranging in age from 5 to 20, turned out for the finale.

"It isn't often that we win," admitted Coach Bill Thornton. "This was only our second victory this season.

"But everytime those kids step out on the field they're winners.

"They're winning a way of learning to work together as a unit and the meaning of contributing to a group."

The 38-year-old Thornton decided as a teenager that teaching the deaf would be his life's work.

Both of his parents were deaf. He isn't.

Devoted To Squad

Bill left the midwest to attend San Francisco State, which offered a course in instruction of the deaf.

There isn't a coach anywhere more devoted to his squad.

"Those are stout-hearted youngsters," Thornton said proudly, as he pointed to his squad engaged in a pre-game drill.

"They don't react to certain situations, naturally. They can't yell out to each other on pass coverage. But they never give up. Even when we're getting clobbered, they don't know how to quit."

There are 75 boys of high school age at CSDR and 32 of them turned out for football. Only one of them is over 200 pounds. The rest range from 115 pounds to 165 pounds in heft.

I asked the coach how a deaf team overcomes tremendous handicaps in the course of carrying out football's demanding routines. Such as calling plays, signals and obeying the whistle.

Use Finger-Spelling

"Our quarterback Frank Scolaro finger-spells the plays in the huddle. I give him a lot of help because I know finger-spelling, too. Sometimes my play-calling irritates the other coaches but I tell them all they have to do to steal my signals is learn to finger-spell," Thornton grinned. He added:

"Both on offense and defense, our boys keep their eyes trained on the ball. The quarterback pats the center on the rump to get the snap and off we go.

"Although the kids can't hear the whistle, the officials are astonished at their observance of a play's conclusion. Sometimes they sustain their tackles a little longer. But usually when the man is down, they know enough to let up."

Mow Down Officials

CSDR's zest for blocking can be attested to by field judge Rocky Lane. In the game against Twin Pines, two of Thornton's players bowled Lane over as they cleared the way near the goal line.

Student body enthusiasm at CSDR equals that of the football team.

They have a troupe of pom-pon girls who step as lively and smartly as that at any high school or college in the southland.

Timing for their routines and for the organized cheers comes from the beat of a big bass drum. They can feel the vibrations of the drum.

Thornton's assistant coach, Bob Lennan, turned from the game action to praise their efforts. He said, sincerely:

"Those kids worked harder to perfect the precision of their cheering than the football squad did to learn its play. You have no idea how many hours they've put in to polish delivery and timing."

Listening to the kids at CSDR "hold that line" gives you an unforgettable sensation. Their cheers may fall on deaf ears, But not on sealed hearts.

Red-Hot Game Results in Flaming Banquet

The CSDR footballers failed to put out the fire after the red-hot 27-6 victory over Twin Pines. Flames flared up again in the Tava Lanes kitchen that evening to temporarily disrupt the second annual Parent-Player Football Banquet. The city fire department was finally able to quench the hungry flames and the rest of the evening was enjoyed by all. The banquet again proved to be a huge success with twenty squad members represented by parents. Many more parents would have been there if other important matters hadn't prevented them. The players, managers and coaches wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to the parents who made this highly enjoyable evening possible.

Gallaudet Dance Group Includes Shirley Hill

Shirley Hill is a member of the freshman member of the Modern Dance Group of Gallaudet College, world's only college for the deaf. She will be one of eight members of the group who will perform at the Western Pennsylvania School for the Deaf, Edgewood, Pittsburgh, Pa., on November 19. On November 20 the same eight will perform at the Little Theater of the University of Akron, Ohio. This performance is being sponsored by the Akron Chapter of the Gallaudet College Alumni association.

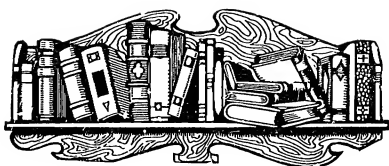

Shirley Hill is a member of the freshman class of Gallaudet College and a graduate of the California School for the Deaf in Riverside. She is the daughter of Mrs. Leila B. Zsiga of 801 North Ross Street, Santa Ana, California.

(The above is a press-release received from Gallaudet College.)

CSDR Pupils Are Olympic Aspirants

CSDR is proud to have three of its pupils considered as candidates to attend the 1961 International Deaf Olympics which will be held in Helsinki, Finland, this summer.

Dick and Bill Ramborger and Bobbi Hutchesson are the three young people who may have the opportunity to compete in the athletic events.

The Call of the Wild

By Jack London

This is the story of Buck, the Saint Bernard, who spent his early life as a member of the Judge Miller family in Santa Clara Valley, California. Most of his early life was pleasant, but when the Klondike Strike of 1879 dragged men from all over the world into the frozen wilds of the North in search for gold, Buck was kidnapped and shipped to Seattle, Washington where he received his first lesson in the law of the club. Buck's pleasant nature was turned to hate when he was shipped to Canada to be trained to become a sled dog. There he was trained brutally, with a club, to kill or to be killed, to expect no mercy, and he also learned the law of the fang. There he overthrew his rivals and became the leader of the sled team, which traveled over endless miles of wasteland. Then one day, when his beloved owner died, Buck set out to find what made the strange call he had heard so many times in the wilderness. Buck found that it was a wolf, which led him to its pack, and because of his overwhelming strength, Buck became its leader. Buck's pack conquered one wolf pack after another in the years that followed. Buck became a legend to the Eskimos because he had carried his fame throughout the North.

The Trojan War

Author: William Knottmeyer

Time: Early Twelfth Century, B.C.

Place: Greece

Characters: Achilles, Ulysses, Ajax, Priam, Apollo, Thetis, Agamemnon, Phenix, Jupiter.

The story is about a great fighter and how wise he was. A Greek soldier married a beautiful lady, but she ran away with another man, a Trojan. Her husband was very angry and called the Greek soldiers to war against the Trojans. The war lasted for ten years. The Greeks won the war by playing a trick on the Trojans. A wooden horse filled with Greek soldiers was pushed through the gates. The Greek soldiers surprised the Trojans and defeated them. The Greek soldier's wife returned and they lived happily ever after.

Teen-Age Book Club Accepts Review from CSDR Student

Below is reproduced part of the letter received from TAB in acknowledgement of a review written by Etta Smith, an Upper School student. This review will be used in the book club's publication which goes to many schools all over the United States.

Mr. William Blea
School for the Deaf
Riverside, California

Dear Mr. Blea:

Etta Smith's excellent review arrived today. I plan to write thanking her for it within the week. And thanks to you for taking care of all necessary details.

I would like very much to say that I could accept reviews from both Donna Carpenter and Sonia Kracer later in the year, but because of the tremendous backlog of well-written letters, from all over the country, we must restrict Junior Reviews to one per class per school year. This I agree is a shame, but there seems no way to avoid it, and at the same time give as many TAB Clubs as possible an opportunity to gain this distinction.

I would like to do this, however: if you would be good enough to ask all three girls what three TAB books offered so far this year they would like most to have, I will be happy to send them. I only wish that we could have chosen more than one of the three good letters submitted from California School for the Deaf.

Sincerely,

Robert F. Wilson

To Tell Your Love

Etta Smith (dating, college or marriage) could be similar to Anne, Doug, Nora and Sam's.

This book is one of the best I have ever read. It shows that sometimes troubles and arguments within a family can actually happen to any of us. I recommend it to boys and girls who are seniors and whose problems

Lower School News

A Trip to Santa's Village

An educational field trip is being planned for some of the Lower School classes. On Wednesday, November 30, Classes "A", "B," and "E" will be taken to Santa's Village in the San Bernardino Mountains. They will go by bus. Mr. Turechek will be the driver.

Santa's Village is about thirty-five miles from Riverside. It will take about one hour and fifteen minutes to get there.

Santa Claus will greet the children and show them his home and his reindeer. Then the children will visit the shop to see the toys and Santa's helpers. They will pet and feed the small animals that wander around the village. There are many wonderful things to ride on at Santa's Village. Santa's train, which makes an exciting trip through the Enchanted Forest and Lollipop Land, and Santa's Sleigh, which is pulled by real live reindeer, are some to be enjoyed by the children.

At noon, the children will buy a hot lunch, probably hot dogs and hot chocolate. They will return to school late in the afternoon.

This is always an enjoyable and profitable day for the children. Miss Paxson

About Having Our Pictures Taken

On November 3, a photographer came to Lower School. His name is Mr. Esgate. He came to take pictures of all the children.

The children looked very nice. The boys wore dress up slacks and jackets. They had on bow ties, too. The girls looked nice in their pretty dresses.

We went to the teachers' lounge. Mr. Esgate took individual pictures of us. Mrs. Gates had her picture taken, too. Then we went outside and had a group picture taken.

About Rhythm

All Lower School classes go to Rhythm once a week. Our class goes every Monday at 2:15 o'clock. We stay for thirty minutes. Mrs. Hensley plays the piano. Mrs. DeLong helps us.

We feel vibrations on the big grand piano. We talk or keep time to the music. Sometimes we keep time with the rhythm instruments. Then we have a rhythm band. This is fun. We feel vibrations on the big drum, too.

Some days we have rhythmic activities. We walk, run, skip or march to music. Often we dance. We like to go to Rhythm.

About the Library

All of the classes in Lower School go to the library every week. Our class goes to the library every Monday afternoon. There are lots of books there. We sit at the tables and read them. Miss Kubotsu is the librarian. She helps us and sometimes Miss Gruber helps us, too. We each choose a book to bring back to our classroom. Miss Gruber lets us read the books when we finish our work. We like to go to the library and we enjoy reading the books.

A New Boy At School

We have a new boy in our class. His name is Ambrose Purifoy. His home is in San Bernardino. He is nine years old. Ambrose lived in Michigan before moving to California. He attended Rackham School at Ypsilanti and the Michigan School for the Deaf at Flint. Ambrose is taking Bruce Chambers' place. Bruce moved to Arizona.

A Trip to the Store

We rode to Sage's Market in the station wagon. At the market we saw many things. Men were cutting and wrapping meat. A lady was fixing vegetables and fruit. We saw many other good things to eat.

We went to Sage's Toy Store and spent 15 cents. Michael, Wayne, Ronnie and Tommy bought wooden airplanes. Dianne bought a pearl necklace. Bobby bought a drawing tablet and Carole bought a marshall's badge.

At the toy store we saw a bird that talked and some beautiful fish.

The lady at the store said we were very good and she gave us balloons and candy.

How We Grow

We went to the infirmary on October 4. Miss Loughran weighed and measured us. Richard Barron is 4 feet 5 inches tall. Bruce Brewster is 4 feet 5 inches tall, too. So is Cindy Roberts. Debbie Mathews is 4 feet 5½ inches tall. She is taller than Richard, Bruce or Cindy. Kathy Kutscher is 4 feet 7 inches tall. So is Todd Brown. Todd is as tall as Kathy. Alana Nunn is 4 feet 8½ inches tall. She is not as tall as Patricia Moore. Patricia is the tallest. She is 4 feet 8½ inches tall.

On Tuesday, November 1, we went back to the infirmary. Miss Loughran weighed us again. She did not measure us.

Todd weighed 72 pounds last month. He weighs 76 pounds this month. He has gained 4 pounds.

Cindy weighed 62½ pounds last month. She weighs 61 pounds this month. She has lost 1½ pounds. Kathy weighed 74 pounds last month. She weighs 78 pounds this month. She has gained 4 pounds.

Alana weighed 77 pounds last month. She weighs 77 pounds this month. She has not gained or lost any pounds.

Patricia weighed 83 pounds last month.

She weighs 87 pounds this month. She has gained 4 pounds.

Debbie weighed 61 pounds last month. She weighs 64 pounds this month. She has gained 3 pounds.

Ghosts, Spooks and Goblins Cavort on Campus

A Halloween Parade

We went to see the Lower School Halloween parade October 28. First the younger children went to a party in the Social Hall. Then they paraded around the campus near the Social Hall with their teachers. They wore Halloween costumes. We saw students dressed as a cave man, a pumpkin, Popeye, brides, spooks, witches, clowns, animals, a pirate, Donald Duck, fairies, a ballet dancer and other characters. We liked the parade very much and thought the little children looked cute.

Yvonne Hunt

Our Halloween Party

All the children dressed in costumes for the Halloween party. The costumes were judged. Mrs. Brill, Miss McEvoy and Mrs. McGarry were the judges. We walked across the stage of Social Hall and the judges chose some of us. The children who won prizes were:

Clyde Vincent and Richard Hastings—the funniest

Nancy Thomason—the prettiest

David McKee—the most frightful

Warren Duckworth, Genaro Abenchuchan and Mike Mahoney—the most original.

We went outside and played games. We got prizes for them. Many parents visited that day and they enjoyed watching us play.

Homemaking

The girls in Homemaking are busy working in the kitchens. The Homemaking I class is working on breakfasts. They will learn to prepare and serve eggs, cereals, fruits and quick breads. The girls in Homemaking II are planning and preparing guest brunches and luncheons. All the girls are making gifts for their mothers for Christmas and they are beginning to make plans for their annual Christmas tea.

Art

Some really good original Halloween drawings in pastel on black paper were done by art students in Elementary and Intermediate Schools. Those done by the Upper School students were on display near the library and were really striking.

Spotting and Pressing

Mr. Pepe reports that most improved students in Spotting and Pressing this month are Fred Waldrip, Joan DeWitty, Billy Travis, Judy Hubbs, Paula Courtright and John Smithson.

General Metal Shop

Since the new paint spray booth has been in use, the auto body students have been turning out some professional repaint jobs. They are re-painting a complete car a week.

Power Sewing

Students in the power sewing classes are remodeling and changing the sizes of 50 gym shorts. The girls are having a great time ripping and sewing pieces together again. It is fun to work and learn. In the future they plan to make doll dresses, pot holders, pretty aprons and other items for Christmas gifts. The girls will use scrap material and left over pieces of ribbon and rick rack as decorative accessories.

Woodwork and Upholstery

During September and October chair repairing for the classrooms occupied a large part of our shop time. The boys did make five new TV chairs for Lassen II. The boys are now enjoying their television programs in luxury. The furniture in the foyer of the Social Hall has all been re-upholstered and restyled by the boys in the cabinet and upholstery shop.

David Strange is making a modern sofa for Palomar I. Three persons can use the sofa at the same time; the covering is a brown quilted plastic. David has been doing very good work.

General Electricity

Mr. Zink's classes are planning a field trip to the California Steam and Generation Plant in Highgrove to observe all their power and generation equipment. Students are working on a variety of electrical projects including a sound system for the school and all types of electronic assembly units.

Class in Lithography

Recently the Staff Directory was completed. This was a joint project done by Miss Stratton's class in typing and the class in lithography. The typing class first made the mechanical negatives after which the class in lithography took over and did the plate-making, presswork and stapling.

The following students have been showing much interest and ability in presswork lately: Mike Nunn, Dale Ice, Jay Shopshire, Susan Swift, Sue Jacobs, Sandra McGahey, Dawn Bryson, Sue Dymond, Lana McGuire, John Gullo and Joan Hersh. Jean Jones, Charles Marsh and Melinda Watson have a flair for paste-up and stripping.

Printing Contest

The Citrus Club of Printing House Craftsmen is sponsoring a Letterhead and Envelope contest among printing students in local high schools and has invited CSDR student printers to take part.

Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place finishers, with all entrants receiving useful articles.

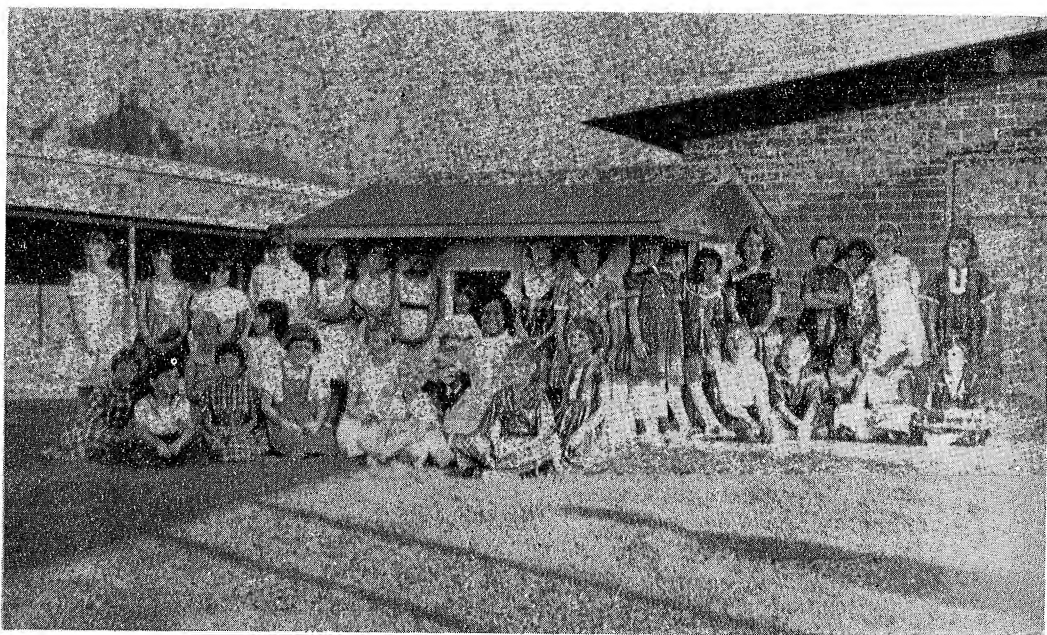

Instructions and specifications were given participants. Each entrant is asked to submit twenty copies of each of the letterhead and envelope entries on stock furnished by the club.

Deadline is Thursday, January 12, 1961. Winners will be announced at a club banquet a week later and awards presented.

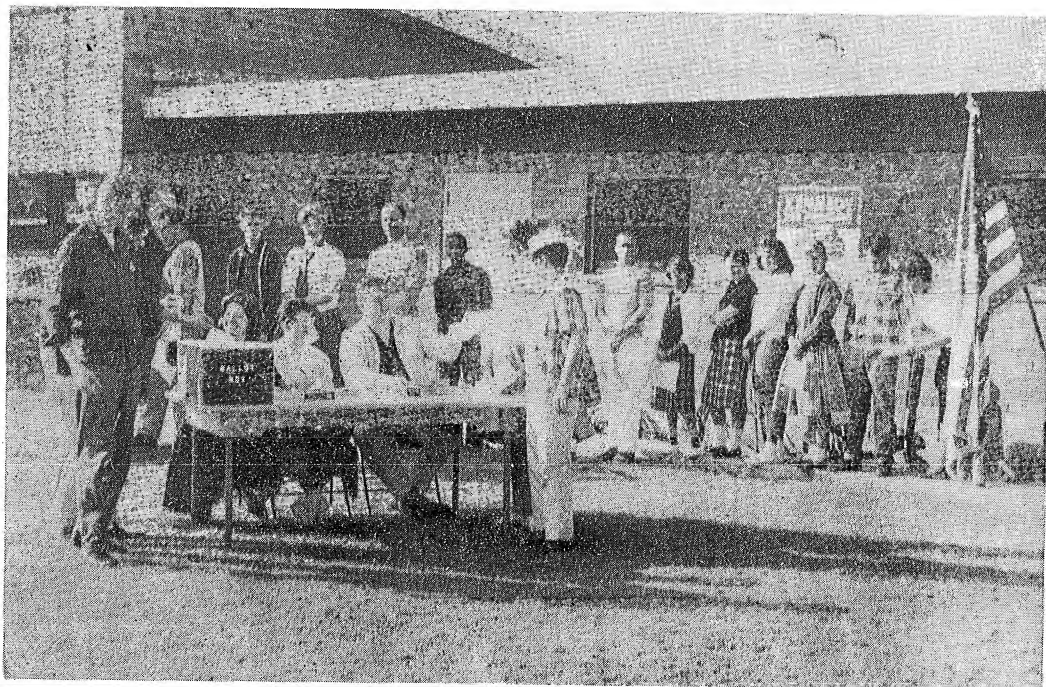

Needless to say, CSDR embryo printers are enthusiastic.

Cover

The cover design was adapted by Ruben Macias in Commercial Art Class and printed by students of the Offset Printing Class.

The Vocational Department constructed a playhouse for the small children's area. The playhouse, which is 5 by 6 by 6 feet, is made from plywood and pine and was built by pupils in the Industrial Arts shop.

November 7 was a day of great activity in Upper School as students and teachers in that area visited the polling booth.

New Pupils

By now Elementary School's new pupils are so well adjusted that they really do not seem to be new any longer:

Jeannette Cambaliza	Gloria Jimenez
Lupe Carreon	John Koranda
Carol Cook	Timothy Lester
Linda Dexter	Terry Puffer
Joanna Ernsberger	Robert Valente
Franklin Fisher	Randy Wagner
Billie Rae Harris	Teddy Welsh

Three of these pupils attended CSDR previously: Carol Cook, John Koranda and Timothy Lester.

Mrs. Stephens' Class

The children in Class A are interested in history and politics even though they are very young citizens. Their interest in the presidential election caused them to bring more newspaper pictures from home than could be used on our big bulletin board.

Mr. Rahmlow took a picture of the children in Class A standing by the bulletin board.

Mrs. Dawson's Class

Mrs. Dawson took Michael Barber, Linda Kerstein, John Koranda, Lance McGhee, Michael Rojas and me to the Plaza last month. We went to a grocery store and a radio shop. We bought apples in the grocery store. At school we read about a grocery store and a radio shop in our readers.

Dale Kameron

Miss Shirley's Class

Miss Shirley brought an incubator and four eggs to school last month. We waited. We watched. One day four baby chicks hatched. We were excited.

Lanny Nunn

Miss Herlihy's Class

Classes E and F went to the school bakery. We saw big boys and girls working. We saw a girl icing a cake. We saw bread, cake and cookies. We saw many big machines and a large oven. Mr. Ackerman gave us some coconut cookies. They were very good.

Tony Ruiz

Mrs. Kowalewski's Class

Class E is learning about animals in science. We have some modeling clay. We made clay animals. It is fun to work with clay.

Mr. Rahmlow came to our room. He took a picture of the class and the clay animals. Mark Gentry was holding up his clay seal.

Mrs. Kelly's Class

Thanksgiving

On November 22 we had a big Thanksgiving dinner in our school dining room. We had apple juice, celery sticks, carrot sticks, olives, turkey, dressing, potatoes, peas, pumpkin pie with whipped cream and milk.

Thanksgiving is a day for giving thanks for our homes, parents, school and many other things.

A Trip

On November 15 the children in Class J went to Los Angeles on the train. We left school at 10:00. Mrs. Tennis and Miss McEvoy drove us to the Santa Fe station in Riverside in their cars. We bought our tickets and waited for the train. At about 10:15 the train came and we got on. We walked through the train and saw the different kinds of cars.

The Los Angeles station is very big. We walked around and saw many things. We ate our sack lunches in the patio there. We bought pop and post cards.

We came back to Riverside on the train. We arrived at the station at 2:40. We had a wonderful time. This was the first train trip for some of the children.

Class D

A Country Fair

On October 21, the Intermediate students had a Country Fair party. We were very enthusiastic about the party. There were decorated booths where we could play games and win prizes. We had many wonderful dances. I think we liked the "Apron and Hat" dance best, but everything was real fun.

We had milk and apple turnovers for refreshments. After the refreshments we played some more games. Some students won prizes, but some didn't win. The party was well planned.

The party lasted for two hours. Then we went to our residence halls. We thanked the teachers for planning and inviting us to the nice party. We had a lot to talk about when we returned to our rooms.

Monica Lane

A Recent Visitor

Recently we had a lady to visit Miss Clements' speech class. She was Miss Affolter, an exchange student from far away Switzerland. We did a little speech for her. When we were through, we asked her questions about herself and her country. We were surprised because her speech was different from ours. She could speak different languages, including German, French and Spanish. She was happy to answer our questions.

We thought that she was interesting and charming. I could understand her fairly well. The way she talked about Switzerland made me wish I could visit her country. She visited several classrooms and asked the teachers many questions. She is a teacher of the deaf and will teach when she returns to Switzerland. I think she must be a very good teacher of the deaf.

Fine Trip

Sometimes I like to think about my trip to Canada a short time before school opened. It was the best vacation I have ever had! We had to wear warm clothes because it was very cold. We took some motor boat rides on a lake. My father heard some funny noises and we looked about and saw a mother bear and two cubs. They were eating honey. We watched them and they were not afraid of us. We saw deer and a snake. My sister caught a baby squirrel. There were many tall pine trees that swayed in the wind. I hope I can go there again sometime.

A Trip

Miss Thomas flew to North Carolina by jet the first of October to see her aunt who was very sick. She was in North Carolina for three weeks. During the time she was there her aunt passed away. We were so sorry. We sent Miss Thomas sympathy cards to make her feel better. We were very happy to see her when she returned because we all missed her very much.

The Penalty

It was the last quarter of the football game. Suddenly the losing football team was penalized because it made a foul. The short, haughty referee put the ball back 15 yards. The tall, strong football players were furious. It was difficult to accept the penalty.

Football Round-up

by Coach Bill Thornton

Statistics of the past football season have indicated that CSDR was beaten in every phase of the game. The Cubs were out-rushed, out-passed, out-first downed and out-scored. The most glaring weakness of all was fumbling; our backs fumbled the ball 23 times and failed to recover 14 times (often deep in defensive territory). Another weakness which plagued us was the inability to carry out good sustained tackling. Several long touchdown runs have resulted (70 yd. punt return at Rim, 90 yd. punt return and 59 yd. run from scrimmage at Boys' Republic, 80 yd. kickoff return and 59 yd. run from scrimmage at Ramona JV). Several tacklers had contact, but they failed to sustain their tackle.

Statistics show a ray of light which holds much promise for future performance. In previous games, the Cubs were known to be strong on the ground, but weak in the air. Defenses were usually stacked to stop our running game. The records show that a fair passing attack developed as the season progressed. This balance of running and passing power could spell trouble for our opponents next year. That is, if the able shoes of our senior linemen can be filled next fall. There are only two men returning from the first team line. Robert Potter, James Manuel, Tom Utley, Rudy Nunez, John Darby and Frank Almendarez have finished their football eligibility. These men will be greatly missed.

John Darby, right tackle and co-captain, received the most compliments from rival coaches. His blocking and tackling was most dependable game after game. He is a sure bet to receive All Arrowhead laurels this year.

Mark McCrory, our senior fullback and co-captain, showed to be the most versatile; he was the team's second highest scorer with 20 points, 3TD's and 2 PAT's. He was called upon to carry the ball 60 times for 238 yards, averaging 3.9 yards per carry. The passing efforts of Mark and Frank Scolaro were highly commendable; they showed up well in both receiving and passing. Mark will also be greatly missed next year.

Tom Henes, Frank Almendarez and Greg Brown have developed into reliable receivers. Henes has the most receptions at nine, Almendarez has the most yardage at 135 yards in 5 receptions. Brown has credit for the most spectacular pass with a 39 yard finger tip TD play. All three have caught a touchdown pass. Frank Scolaro was the passer.

Bill Ramborger was our highest scorer with 6 TD's for 36 points. He also has the best ground average with 565 yards in 90 attempts for a 6.3 average. Rene Gamache shows promise of being a good running back by running 95 yards in 22 carries for a 4.3 average.

Statistics on tackles made in a game are difficult to record, for often there may be a number of tacklers involved with each play. An attempt was made to keep a record of obvious tackles this year. Honors were evenly spread among Darby (21), Ramborger (20), Brown (20), McCrory (18), Almendarez (15), and Scolaro (14).

Upper Girls' Volleyball Team Wins Championship

There was much excitement at CSDR December 1, 1960. The Upper School girls' volleyball team, "The Cubettes," won the City of Riverside Recreational League Championship.

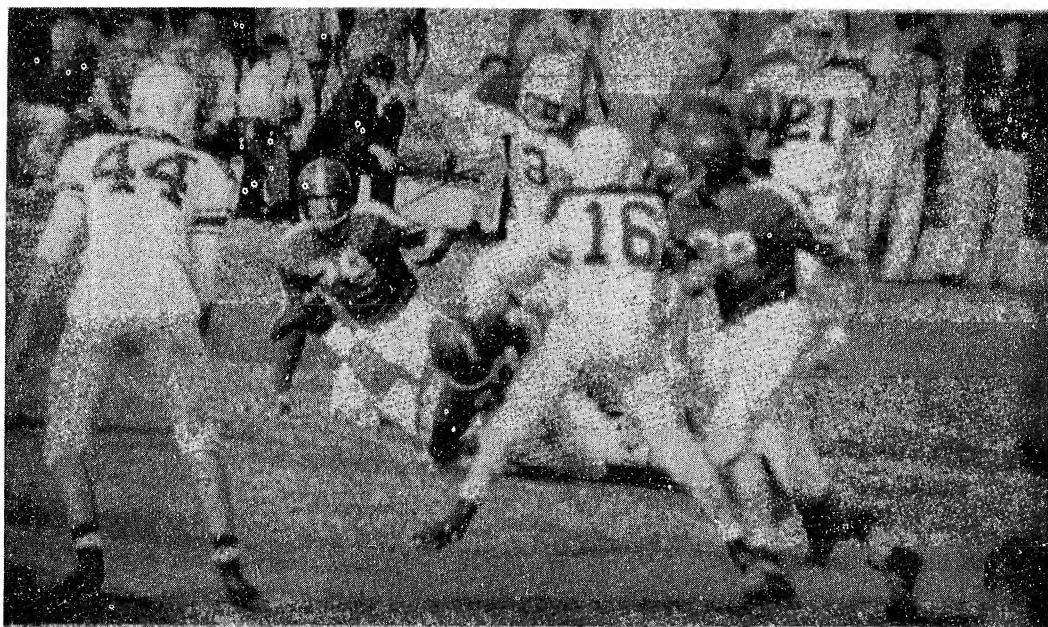

The games were played between CSDR and VI G's from Ramona High School. The games were very exciting. The first game was 15 to 9 in our favor. Sonia Kracer was high scorer with 5 points. The second game was much more exciting, the heroine of that game was Etta Smith, with the score 12 to 6 in their favor, Etta served 9 straight points, which won the game! The score was 12 to 5 in our favor and we captured the match. The girls' teamwork, good sportsmanship and alertness won the championship for our school.

The girls on the teams are:

First Team
Sonia Kracer, Capt.
Etta Smith
Bobbi Hutcheson
Pandy Thorsell
Cathy Blood
Margaret Holcomb

Second Team
Mary E. Grandfield
Connie Bates
Adrienne Cleva
Susan Swift
Jean Jones
Mona Wingfield
Carol Visser
Virginia Polich

In a hard fought contest between CSDR and Aquinas,

Random Notes

Well, the shouting is all over and John F. Kennedy will be our next president. The faculty was pleased with the intense interest which the students showed in this presidential election. And wasn't it fun, our own mock election!

As Sue Cameron said, "The days are getting colder but we still have the warm sun before it drops out of sight." Good old Southern California!

Frank Bobitch seemed to be accident-prone in football, so he switched to bowling. Is it safe enough, Frank?

The Club Room in the new gym is in full swing and the older students are enjoying this new privilege of socializing in the evening. Remember, everyone, to keep this privilege; good behavior counts.

Our driver training class was thrilled with the new car donated to our school recently. It's smoother riding now, isn't it?

What a day it was at the Air Show at the Riverside Municipal Airport with 25,000 spectators attending and our students selling concessions!

Ruben Macias is all set for his citizenship papers. He has applied at the Department of Justice in Los Angeles. Good luck, Ruben.

Doris Broadway went home with Sandra McGahey for one weekend. They went to a party and had lots of fun.

Ann Newby spent a weekend with Darlene Jones. They visited Merry Carol Danielson.

Melinda Watson visited with Velva Lee Taylor and her family. Melinda thought little Beverly was cute.

Lynda Foshee is one of the Upper School pupils who is displaying a new diamond.

Upper School wishes everyone a happy vacation!

A Visit to the UCR Library

On November 15 Upper School Classes J and P went to the library at the University of California in Riverside. When we walked in, the library was so quiet. There were many students studying around tables.

Dr. Coman, the librarian, showed us around. First he showed us the heart of the library, the card catalog. Each card is headed by a title, author or subject. Each book has more than one card in the catalog. They have 135,000 books in the library at present.

There was a section where all kinds of magazines are kept. They also have a map case filled with different maps. In another section of the room are the reference books. Some of the encyclopedias are from other countries.

On the other side of the room there were stacks and stacks of books grouped by subjects. In addition to tables there were also upholstered sofas and chairs where students could sit and read.

On the second floor were microfilms, microcards and microprints. The microfilms are of newspapers from 1920 to the present which were made on films. This saves space in the library. The London Times, New York Times, and Los Angeles Times are used. The microcards are of magazines, and the microprints are of government documents. There also is a room with a record player so that people may listen quietly to records borrowed in the library. There are rooms called carrells where students may study quietly by themselves.

I really enjoyed the visit. The library is beautiful and it has just about everything. If I go to college, I will go to the library because they have different kinds of books which will help me in my studies.

Costumé Party

The Upper School students had a Story Book Costume Dance in the Social Hall Saturday night, November 19 from 7:30 to 10:30.

The decorations in the Social Hall were simple but beautiful. On the stage there was a big book with the title, "One Thousand and One Stories." The lights were dim and on each card table around the room was a white doily in the center and a vase of flowers.

We all wore costumes to portray characters in books. During intermission we had doughnuts and punch for refreshments. After that the winners for the best character portrayals came out of the book on the stage and each did an act. The winners were: Ramona Jandle as Helen Keller, Cynthia Jandle, Susan Courtney, Bobbi Hutcherson, and I as the girls in Little Women, Tom Utley as Paul Revere, Arthur Harper as Benjamin Franklin, Mark McCrory as Theodore Roosevelt, and Ronald Viduya as Val Jean in Les Misérables. We winners each got a book as a prize.

Diane Bates and Derry Keeshan were in charge of the dances. We did the fox trot, waltz, cha cha, and swing.

A student committee helped plan the party.

I think this was the most wonderful party we ever had and we all had lots of fun.

Our Swimming Pool

The pool at the School for the Deaf is near the gym. It is 75 feet long and 40 feet wide. It is 3 feet deep at the shallow end and 5 feet 8 inches at the deep end. The water is just as blue as the sky and it is very beautiful to see. The swimmers are protected from the wind by a fence which encircles the pool. If it gets too hot there is a large covered patio at one end for those who do not want to sit in the sun.

There are also two shuffle board courts on the patio. We enjoy the pool very much.

Judy Huhn

Election Day

Our school had a mock election. One day in the month of October the Intermediate and Upper School students registered. The Republican headquarters was in Miss Smallwood's room and the Democratic headquarters was in Mr. Fauth's room. We helped make posters, pins to wear and many other things. It was interesting to discuss the candidates for president of the United States.

At our election in school on November 8 Richard Nixon was ahead of John F. Kennedy by 37 votes. There were 243 students who had voted and received labels, "I have voted."

In the general election Kennedy was ahead of Nixon in the electoral votes, and he also had more popular votes than Nixon, though that was close. In winning, Kennedy will be the first Catholic, the youngest man and the first son of the Twentieth Century to be president of the United States.

The electors will cast their votes some time in December and send them to Congress. Congress will convene on January the third; it will open the sealed envelopes from each state and officially announce the new president.

The next president will be inaugurated on January 20. We all hope he will make a good president.

Christmas Gift to CARE

This year, instead of the traditional custom of giving Christmas gifts to the pupils in their homeroom classes, the teachers in Upper School will present a gift of money to CARE.

It is hoped that this money may be earmarked for some needy school for the deaf abroad.

A Story About a Picture

Pictures are often used in language classes as a means of providing ideas for stories. Covers from the Saturday Evening Post are usually excellent for this type of work. Each child has a different picture from which he creates his own story.

The following story is a sample of this kind of work.

Disneyland

Class A

The little boy's name is Larry. His father and mother told him that they would go to Disneyland. Larry was thrilled. They went there. His father bought long tickets for Larry to have rides.

Larry wanted to have a merry-go-round ride. His father said, "Ok!" Larry sat on a horse beside his father. Larry waved his gun at his mother. His mother sat on a bench near the merry-go-round. Then Larry, his mother and father walked around in Disneyland. They become tired.

Larry's mother and father wanted to go home. Larry didn't want to go. He wanted to play around in Disneyland, but his parents told him that they had better go home and have some ice cream. They went home. They were tired, but they enjoyed their day in Disneyland.

A New Privilege

The older students in Area III were given the privilege to use the Club Room in the gym in the evenings. We are all very pleased about this because many of us had wanted this since our gym was completed.

In the Club Room we may hold meetings, plan activities, have parties, or just meet and buy snacks. We students clean up the room well after each time we use it. That is our responsibility and also to behave well if we wish to keep this privilege.

Macbeth on T.V.

For two weeks our class studied the play, "Macbeth," by William Shakespeare, and we discussed it with Mr. Blea in reading class. Before the discussions we did not understand the play because the English language was different from what we use nowadays. However, we understood after Mr. Blea explained many things. We memorized the eight lines that Macbeth said to Lady Macbeth when she died.

Sunday night, November 20, at 6 p.m. our class watched the play on TV in Shasta I dorm. We used our books while we watched; we could understand and follow the play very well. The play was over at 8 p.m. We really enjoyed it.

The Printers Club

The Printers Club met Monday evening, November 14, in the printing shop and initiated new members into the club with a type lice prank. It was fun.

The members voted to add two new members, David Thordsen and Dan Golden.

To fill the open dates of February and March, we decided to visit the Riverside Press-Enterprise printing department in February, and planned a program for the March meeting with Mr. Fishler as speaker.

The meeting adjourned immediately after refreshments of Eskimo pies.

Prose and Poetry by the Deaf

Under the auspices of the Gallaudet College Alumni Association, an anthology of prose and poetry entitled The Silent Muse has been published. All material in the anthology has been written by the adult deaf in the United States.

The work of two of the staff members of CSDR has been included in this volume. They are Felix Kowalewski and Lawrence Newman. Mrs. Thomas Fishler, whose husband is on the CSDR staff, is the author of one of the poems.

Leisure Time Events

G.R.C.

The G.R.C. has organized three volleyball teams that are playing a round-robin on Wednesday afternoons. The team captains are Carol Williams, Karen Rowenhurst and Connie Davis.

G.R.C. also has a volleyball team entered in the Riverside City Recreational League. The team has played three games and has been victorious in all of them. On Wednesday November 2, the team played the Volleyettes at the CSDR gym. The Volleyettes are from Sierra Jr. High School.

The recreation team has two games left to play. If the team wins both games, they will be champions in the Junior League. The team captain is Laura Dinndorf and the manager is Evelyn Brown.

Congratulations to CSDR's Junior Valley Team for their good sportsmanship, outstanding team work and excellent effort in the Riverside City Recreation League. These qualities made it possible for the girls to bring the city championship award to CSDR.

Monday, November 14, their final game with the Diamonds was played in the CSDR gym. After the game Dr. Brill paid tribute to the girls and presented the first team with individual trophies. Mrs. Bonnie Hart and Mr. Clair Kuss, representing the Riverside City Recreation Department, also congratulated the girls.

The following girls are members of the team:

Laura Dinndorf,	Karen Rowenhurst
Captain	Judy Tamez
Evelyn Brown,	Carol Williams
Manager	Connie Davis
Sylvia Acosta	Cathy Hogan
Susie Calzada	Pat Moran
Sherry Crawford	Froetter Nelson

Boy Scouts—Troop 218

We went to Capistrano Beach Saturday morning, October 8. When we arrived at the beach, the sun was shining, so we went into the water. It was cold as ice. We saw many crabs and small fish. Some of the boys did not like to walk through the water.

We went to the store to buy some candy and snow cones. In a while we went back to the beach. It was not cold anymore.

After we left the beach, we went to the Mission at San Juan Capistrano. The mission was very old. There were very many birds. We fed them. They were doves.

After awhile we came back to school. We enjoyed our trip.

Pachappa I

Eddie Anderson, Bobby Bedford, Billy Clary with the counselors and some of the other boys attended the Air Show at Riverside Airport.

Ray Butler is back in school after spending two weeks vacation in Texas.

Mike Barber went by himself on the bus from school to his home in Long Beach for the first time.

All the boys of Pachappa I went trick or treating on October 31.

Pachappa II

Pachappa II was decorated for Halloween with pumpkin men, black cats, bats and witches. All our boys dressed in costumes to go trick or treating and returned with lots of "goodies." Brant Watt's father and a friend came to help the counselors take the boys out.

Bruce Chambers and Ronnie Lurwick left our dorm, but we have a new boy, Ambrose Purifoy, who has attended school in Flint, Michigan.

Mark Austin had his tonsils out but is now back with us. Rocky Finley was sick but returned to school this week.

Pachappa III

We have a new girl living in Pachappa III. Her name is Janet Tovar and her family lives at Vandenburg Air Force Base.

When Sharon Ingenthron's family moved to a new home in San Bernardino they found a kitten there. It's a yellow tiger kitten, and Sharon is going to keep it.

Loddie Gonzales, Cathy Ortega, Janet Tovar, Germaine Pico, Eileen Smith and Barbara Torres went to see the new car display held in downtown Riverside.

Rubidoux I

Thirteen boys from the dorm went to a Halloween party at Mrs. Seigerwald's home on the last Saturday in October. Spooks, pumpkins, and bats, plus a black dog, lurked in the dark corners of the yard where games were played. Making candied apples was twice enjoyed, once in the making and once in the eating. Cider, donuts and candy filled up all the goblins, who were Steve Cook, Mario Garcia, Doug Hale, Dale Kamerer, Jesus Loera, Mike Rojas, Tony Ruiz, David Schiff, Fred Sanchez, Phil Vasquez, Steve Scolaro, Robert Young and Fernando Zaldivar.

Clyde Vincent is our nominee for having the best Halloween costume. He was the glamorous blonde escorted by that distinguished gentleman, Richard Hastings.

Some of the boys went to the Riverside Air Fair with Mr. Casem as a special award for excellent week-end behavior. There they saw many airplanes on display and a parachute-jumping demonstration. The boys that enjoyed this trip were David Rivera, Fred Sanchez, Jerry Marquez, Larry Cordero, Mario Garcia and Stephen Cook.

Rubidoux II

Two new girls came to Rubidoux II in the month of October. They were Joanna Ernsberger and Rosemary Ortiz.

Room III has the best housekeeper record. The girls are Patty Moore, Linda Leslie, Hazel Mosley and Rosemary Kutscher. They won by one point.

Diana Mesa was happy to see her picture in the newspaper taken with some members of the "Ticktockers" club.

Rubidoux III

Sunday, October 9, was the day of the Air Fair in Riverside. Five of our best behaved girls were privileged to attend. After the show they visited in Mrs. Wilson's home before returning to the dormitory.

It is a toss-up as to who plays the best game of jack among our girls. Needless to say, all the girls are enjoying a good workout.

Sharon Nunn recently visited over the week-end with Lily Miller. Pam Jordan was a week-end guest of Karen DuQuin. The girls reported that they had lots of fun.

Room 8 received the best housekeeping award for October. Prizes were given to Alcea Bradley, Sharon Nunn, Sandra Russell and Mary Ann Rose.

Lassen I

Much activity and excitement have prevailed in three of the dorms in Area III. An intramural program has been started and there is nothing but enthusiasm for it. The sports which have been played to date are flag football, soccer and kick-ball. We have plans to include other seasonal sports in the program.

To maintain interest, a list of individual point standings are circulated biweekly. The standings as of November 1 are:

1. Robert Barron	386
2. Ernesto Murillo	383
3. David Strange	377
4. David Cisneros	375
5. Mike Fenton and Mike Wilson	364

Lassen II

The boys in Lassen II were very unhappy to hear that Mr. Barnett had to go to the Army. In his place we welcome Mr. Donald Massey.

Mike Mahoney, Jefferson Baucom and Warren Snyder won the awards for having the neatest room all month.

Warren Duckworth is showing the boys how to do oil paintings. He is doing quite well with his picture of a Chinese lady.

Mr. Ames and Mr. Massey took some of the boys to see the 1961 model cars last Saturday. They had a very good time.

Shasta I

Diane Bates invited Francine Lauer and Marilyn Lewis to spend a recent weekend at her home. The high light of the weekend was Bill Ramborger's eighteenth birthday party. The girls reported that it was a super party and that Bill's mother was a wonderful hostess.

Melinda Watson is the second girl in Shasta I to return from home wearing a lovely engagement ring. No announcement has been made of a wedding date.

Donna Carpenter and Peggy Domenick experienced a big thrill recently when they attended the wedding of one of Donna's cousins in the Wayfarer's Chapel at Portuguese Bend. It is a lovely setting for a wedding and Peggy said that looking up at the stars was an unforgettable experience.

Shasta II

All the music and laughter you hear on Tuesday and Thursday nights is coming from our new club room. From 6:45 p.m. to 7:15 p.m., Shasta II and Palomar II girls and boys can be found munching candy, sipping cokes and dancing to the latest records.

Congratulations to Marsha Sandusky, Pandi Thorsell and Donna Larson who have been chosen as student council members.

Jean Jones enjoyed her first Greyhound Bus ride recently when she visited Sharon Lewis who lives in Oxnard.

Wasn't Margaret Holcomb lucky when she saw the Rams football game in Los Angeles on October 23?

Shasta III

The girls in Shasta III decided to have a surprise Halloween party. In fifteen minutes they were dressed and ready.

Laura Dinndorf wore a high heeled shoe on one foot and a thong on the other and used a waste paper basket for a hat. Froetter Nelson and June Phillips had their housecoats on upside down and backwards. Cathy Hogan wore two different socks and shoes. Penny Johansen surprised us when she peeled off many, many blouses, sweaters, skirts and jeans. Sue Jacobs was dressed in two blouses and two pairs of shorts, a different one on each side. Sandra Butler made good use of her Japanese kimono. Connie Davis and Pat Moran were bathing girls. Loretta Conti and Susan Bell wore their souvenir hats. We are still wondering how Theresa Gutierrez grew such long, red eyelashes so quickly.

Yvonne Hunt and Patty Davis won prizes for being the funniest. Sharon Russell and Sherry Crawford passed the candy. Ten o'clock found us all tucked in our beds.

Shasta IV

Many of the Shasta IV girls have enjoyed our dorm's projects of making miniature bird cages, tropical fish, native masks and candle dripping on old bottles for candle holders.

Our girls continue to enjoy the social activity of visiting in each others homes. During this month Karen Rowenhorst visited Nona Stratemeyer, while Carol Williams visited Judy Tamez.

Patsy Carlsen was the only one of our girls who was lucky enough to go trick or treating this Halloween. She returned with a big sack of sweets.

Palomar I

Palomar I has elected Student Council officers for the first half of the school year. They are: President, Arthur Harper; assistant to the president, Russell Thexton; Vice-President, Mark McCrory; Secretary, David Perkins; Class Representatives, Senior Class, Donald Winant; Junior Class, Dennis Kaufman; Sophomore Class, Don Silvers.

Three boys from Palomar I have the honor of being responsible for the open hours of the snack bar in the club room which is a new privilege given to Palomar I and II and Shasta I and II. The boys sharing this responsibility are Pete Howe, Russell Thexton and Don Silvers.

We in Palomar I have enjoyed working for a trophy in past years so much that we have started a new chart for this school years awards. Our trophy is not given for the best room alone, but for two boys rooming together and being able to cooperate in their work, to accept duties and responsibility, for maturity, honesty, attitude (toward other boys and girls, all counselors, campus personel, home, church, etc.) and cleanliness (in mind, body, clothes and room.) Our trophy will be given to the boys whom we feel have as nearly reached our expectations of mature young gentlemen as possible. Our high score boys so far this year are Arthur Harper, Don Winant, David Olson and Tom Utley. Many others are following close behind them.

Palomar II

Two weeks ago George Mangum's father had the misfortune of getting thrown out of his truck when hit by a car with faulty brakes, but he was very fortunate to escape serious injury. At present he is not working but hopes to return to work soon.

A club room has been set up in the new gymnasium for the Upper School boys and girls. Already it has become very popular with the students for recreational purposes and also for those who have a "sweet tooth." The room is available to the boys of this dormitory every Tuesday and Thursday evening and over the weekend.

Palomar III

For about two weeks we had beautiful Halloween decorations on our window which were designed by Ronald Viduya from Palomar I.

With very good cooperation from the boys in Palomar III, all wore costumes for our Halloween party October 27. Mrs. Scully was our judge and picked Carl Vasquez for the funniest costume and Sidney Kaufman for the most original. Everyone enjoyed themselves with all the games and refreshments.

Bursting with pride and joy are Robert Barron for winning first place in cross county intramurals and Ernesto Murillo for winning second place. We are mighty proud of the two boys.
